Good catch Kavita, if I remember correctly Kathy said minimum of 7 days to publish, I'll check with her on this. Since this is best case scenario I changed the FR notice of decision to 7 days but forgot to do it for FR notice of submission. If the process takes 4 weeks as it did Tom, we're going to have 9 days to respond to public comments before the 120 day mark. I will change both FR dates to 30 days for now. Rosemary, I will also make your suggested edits and send this back around.

Thanks everyone

I just went through the FR publication process in the Ocean Dumping Program. It took almost 4 weeks between signature and publication.

Ok, so it looks like we are planning to publish in FR four days after receipt of the package. I cannot find in my notes where Kathy referenced the time we can expect to wait before publication, but even if it takes longer than four days and we end up pushing all other dates back, would we take time out of preparation of responsiveness summary?

Rosemary,

Attached is my first effort at a combined gantt chart (Lead-up to Submission/ Submission Review) based on the information yesterday (no comment period after public hearing). Please review for the accuracy of my timeline and any formatting you think would make this better.

Matt/Kavita,

Since we tried to go over this yesterday I wanted to give you both an opportunity to review/suggest edits as well.

Thanks,
